

GRAND JURY FINDS 22 INDICTMENTS

Hyattsville Investigators Will Resume on Tuesday on Other Complaints.

HYATTSVILLE, Md., Oct. 12.—The grand jury of the circuit court, now in session at Upper Marlboro, has taken a recess until Tuesday morning, when it will resume its work. In the week just passed it returned twenty-two indictments and heard eighty-six witnesses. An indictment against George Washington charges him with the murder of his common law wife, Mary Henson, at their home, in Chapel Hill, Piscataway district, last July. Washington unexpectedly returned home and found the Henson woman in company with Edward Mackall, of Washington. He followed the woman upstairs, and it is said that during the violent quarrel that followed cut her throat with a razor and then pushed her out of the window. Plus Mitchell was indicted for the murder of a colored man named Duval during the past summer. Abraham Hoggins was indicted for arson. He is alleged to have wilfully set fire to his own house, near Capitol Heights.

The nature of the other indictments was not made public, because the officials do not desire the principals to have an opportunity to escape from this jurisdiction.

The grand jury refused to indict Andrew Jackson, colored, for the murder of a colored man named Lewis, who was found last July along the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad near Seabrook. The coroner's jury in the case brought in a verdict of accidental death through being hit by a train.

It is said that the grand jury will next week begin an investigation of charges of violation of the excise laws. The allegation is made that there are a large number of "blind tigers" in one of the election districts. As tomorrow will be a legal holiday, the court will not be in session.

Capt. Oswald A. Greager has returned to his home on Wine avenue after an absence of several days in Manchester, N. H., where his father has been critically ill.

At a special meeting of the board of school commissioners for Prince George county, held at the court house in Upper Marlboro, the following orders were passed: That the resignation of Miss Eliza as teacher in the Brentwood school be accepted; that the trustees of the Fairmount Heights colored school be authorized to rent a room for school purposes at a cost of $6 per month; that the property of the colored school in Kent district, which was closed, be offered for sale; that it be recommended to the county commissioners to make a levy of $800 for the completion of the colored school at Fairmount Heights; that George Smith be appointed a trustee of the colored school near Friendly; that the petition of patrons of School No. 2, in Surrogate district, be rejected; that the county commissioners be asked for an appropriation of $1,500 for a new school house in the Piscataway district.

Laud Wilson and Bryan For Temperance Stand

GALESBURG, Ill., Oct. 12.—The Illinois W. C. T. U. State convention here praised the national Administration, President Wilson and Secretary Bryan being specifically mentioned, for giving the world an object lesson in temperance.

The convention went on record as favoring hygienic marriages and passed resolutions declaring:

"We favor the passage of a law requiring that certificates from a reliable physician shall attend every application for a marriage license."

In addition, the resolution pledged the members to enforce the regulation in force for a new school house in the Piscataway district.

Say Farm Will Cure Tat's Baldness

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Back to the land as a cure of the bald spot on the head of former President William H. Taft has been recommended by the Woman's Homestead Association, after a vote. The resolution, which includes the interesting fact that 66 per cent of the bankers at present in the city of Boston are either bald or partially bald, reads in part:

"If former President Taft and these bankers were to resume the condition of life of their fathers or grandfathers and till the soil at least a portion of the time, they would need no oilment for the prevention of baldness. The perspiration with the attendant natural oils which would be secreted by the scalp would prevent it from becoming dry and increase the amount of hair."

Bids Are Sought for Dredging Potomac

Bids for the removal of 40,000 cubic yards of mud and sand from the bed of the Potomac river, between the Highway Bridge and Georgetown, will be opened Tuesday noon in the office of Lieut. Col. W. C. Langfitt, in the Southern building. Five years ago the channel was dredged, but since then it has filled up as much as five feet in places.

The stretch of river between the two points will be dredged to a depth of twenty-one feet. Work must begin within a month. The mud is to be taken out to be deposited behind the dike on the Virginia side of the channel.

Senator Smith Aided When Marbury Quits

The campaign of Senator John Walter Smith of Maryland to succeed himself as Senator has been aided by the announcement of the withdrawal of William L. Marbury of Baltimore from the race.

Mr. Marbury announced his withdrawal last night. Smith supporters are pleased. The reason assigned for Marbury's withdrawal is that he became a candidate last spring at the request of President Wilson and then expected he would have but a short campaign leading up to the primaries in August of this year. Since then, under the direct election amendment, it has developed the campaign would not end until November, 1914. Mr. Marbury does not want to engage in a fight of that length. Meantime, Senator Smith is showing activity and hopes to succeed himself.

Fan Dreams He's Doyle: Slides for Second, but Goes Downstairs! "Out!"

CANTON, Ohio, Oct. 12.—Homer Heingartner, baseball fan and sleep walker, lies in the hospital today with three fractured ribs and a dislocated right shoulder. Heingartner dreamed that he had taken Larry Doyle's place on the Giants' team. He was trying to steal second, and dived head first to beat Schang's throw to Collins. Second base happened to be the head of the stairs, and he overslid. When he reached the bottom of the stairs he came to and agreed with the umpire-physician that he was "out."

SUPREME COURT OPENS TOMORROW

Decisions in Important Cases
Expected to Be Handed Down in About a Week.

After the summer recess, the Supreme Court is ready to enter on its labors. The members of the court will go to the White House and call on the President. This will be the first call of the court as a body on the new President.

The court, as usual, has an almost insurmountable quantity of work ahead of it. Hearing of arguments will begin Tuesday. The general docket is heavy, having about 100 cases. One of the first cases to be argued will be the famous Shreveport case, involving points taken to those raised in the Minnesota case.

Other cases to be argued include the Lexington milling case involving the legality of bleaching flour by the Alsop process; the case of the Eastern Pipe Line case, in which the Government seeks to make the pipe line conform to the regulations of the interstate commerce commission as carriers.

The court is not confronted this year with any cases of the magnitude of the oil and tobacco cases, though the Shreveport case involves issues as to which Wall Street is nervous.

John W. Davis, the new Solicitor General, will be presented to the court by Attorney General McReynolds.

Illinois Governor Completes 60th Year

Today is the sixtieth birthday of Edward F. Dunne, governor of Illinois, who was born in Waterville, Conn., October 12, 1852. Within a short time his parents moved to Peoria, Ill., and here young Dunne spent his youth and early manhood. He graduated at the Peoria High School, and completed his education in Trinity College, at Dublin.

In 1877 he was admitted to the bar and began to practice law in Chicago. He withdrew from practice, however, in 1882, to fill a vacancy in the circuit court bench. He was re-elected in 1897 and again in 1902. After serving thirteen years on the bench, he was elected mayor of Chicago, in 1905. He was elected governor of Illinois on the Democratic ticket last year.

Others whose birthdays fall on October 12 are Chester Long, former United States Senator from Kansas, who is fifty-three years old; George W. Cable, the writer of Southern stories, who is sixty-nine; and Brim Gen. Charles Klug, U. S. A., retired, who is also sixty-nine years old.

Pursued in Home, Woman Shoots Man

GLoucester, Mass., Oct. 12.—Pursued by her own police, by a man, Mrs. Marion Ross, of 42 Warrat street, with her four-year-old daughter in her arms, finally shot her assailant, according to the story she told the police to the man she shot, George H. Bartlett, of Boston, is under arrest charged with attempted murder.

Rose is being held on a charge of assault with a revolver. She says that Bartlett became infuriated with her and that on two occasions previously she had to call the police when he demanded admittance to her home had been refused by her.

"77" A hard stubborn Cold that hangs on, is broken up by Humphreys' "Seventy-seven."

Cold houses, cold offices, cold churches or places of amusement, before the artificial heat is turned on, are the most prolific causes of catching cold.

A vital of "Seventy-seven" in the pocket is the nearest thing to a self heater, because a dose taken at the first chill or shiver will either prevent or break up the Cold at once.

If you wait until your bones begin to ache, till you begin to cough and sneeze, it may take longer.

"Seventy-seven" is a small vial of pleasant pellets, fits the vest pocket, 25cts and $1.00. All Drug Stores or mailed.

RECESS PROPOSAL LIKELY TO FAIL

Senators, However, Plan for Three-Day Adjournment Until November 10.

Efforts of Senator Hoke Smith and some of the other Democratic leaders to get a recess of Congress until about November 15 probably will fail, Senators told today. They saw no real likelihood of a recess. President Wilson wants Congress to remain in session, with the view to furthering currency legislation and, while a large number of Democratic Senators, as well as Republicans, would like to recess, the indications today are that the same object will be realized in another fashion.

An agreement of an informal sort to transact no business and to adjourn for three-day periods until about November 10, is being discussed, the indications today are that this will enable Senators who are not on the Banking and Currency Committee to go to their homes to rest.

It is generally conceded now that no report from the committee need be expected before November 10 and perhaps later.

Senator Clapp's bill prohibiting the payment of campaign funds from out of State to another, it has been agreed, will be taken up Monday, October 16. The Senate will begin consideration of the seamen's bill. It is likely the passage of this bill will not be long.

After the summer recess, the Supreme Court is ready to enter on its labors. The members of the court will go to the White House and call on the President. This will be the first call of the court as a body on the new President.

WEST POINT HEAD WOULD OPEN DOORS

Colonel Townsley Favors Tests for All Boys, Changing the Appointment Plan.

Competitive examinations open to the youth of the nation for entrance to West Point is the plan favored by Colonel Townsley, superintendent of that institution, in his annual report. He would abolish the present system by which young men are designated for appointment by members of Congress, subject only to their ability to pass the entrance examination.

Colonel Townsley in his report takes a strong stand against the proposal of lessening the severity of the entrance examination, as has been suggested on the floor of Congress. He declares that there has been a steady increase in the number of applicants who pass and that 15 per cent of the cadets treated by surgeons last year received their injuries playing football. He asserted that there was no adequate compensation in the physical training resulting from cadet participation in the game.

Colonel Townsley second the suggestion of Capt. H. J. Koehler, instructor of physical training at the Academy.

Judge Marries Them; Dissatisfied; Get Pastor

A Municipal Court Judge couldn't tie the marriage knot tight enough to suit the families of Samuel Rosen, aged twenty-one, of Richmond, Va., and Miss Sarah Nusholtz, of Washington, so they appeared at the courthouse yesterday and had Clerk Kroll make them out a new license, with the Rev. G. Silverstone named as the officiating pastor.

The couple were married by Judge C. S. Bundy last Wednesday.

Radium Cheaper; Demand Now Less

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Radium is getting cheaper.

"Early in the present year," says the Journal of the American Medical Association, "radium bromid sold at $105 per milligram in Germany. In July, however, sales were made in Vienna at about half that price."

This startling drop, the Journal says, is due to an increased supply, but to a decrease in the demand. The dose of the seamen's bill. It is likely the passage of this bill will not be long.
